

ABOUT ABALINX is a not for profit organisation dedicated to enhancing the quality of life through social media. Abalinx is based on Social Media Network that consists of a team of skilled professionals dedicated to providing information about Mature Age Career Services, Occupational Environmental Health & Safety. Abalinx also provides free online support forums. Abalinx was registered on the 8 March 2004 and came online on the 28 March 2004.

ORIGINS The concept of Abalinx was created as a brainchild by Peter Adamis in 1998, with plans to have it online that same year. However due to unforeseen circumstances the concept was delayed and shelved until additional resources could be identified. In 2000 he discussed the concept further with his friend and associate Maurice Barwick and decided to pursue the matter further. In 2002, after further discussions, plans were put into motion to create an ex-service military website in conjunction with training including a small social media network based on friends. On the 8 March 2004 The domain name Abalinx = (Adamis and Barwick Associates) was registered while the finishing touches were being applied to the website. Finally on the 28 March 2004 the Abalinx website went online.

MISSION Our mission is to enhance the quality of life for all humans no matter their colour, race, religion or culture through our website abalinx.com. We aim to lay the foundations for the interchange and sharing of knowledge to all and shine light into the dark recesses of ignorance and believe that communication is the gateway to building relationships throughout the world.

GLOBAL & DOMESTIC NETWORK ABALINX links you on a National & International level. Our main office is located in Melbourne, Australia with associates in North America, Europe, India and Asia.
