

Quick to be investigated

Abalinx 26 March 2018 Peter Adamis

Senior members of the Victorian Division of the Liberal Party have voiced their concerns at Ian Quicks, emails being distributed to Party members whilst a member of the Administrative Committee.

A source advised on the proviso of anonymity that Ian Quick is to be investigated for leaking information to the media on the inner workings of the Administrative Committee decisions.

Members are saying that Ian Quicks emails are creating divisions amongst the party at large and have accused him of harming Matthew Guys opportunity of winning government at the next State Election.

Matthew guy is concerned that these side shows by Quick are a destabilising influence on the alliances created by Michael Kroger over the past twelve months. Michael Kroger has been traversing the Victorian countryside keeping members up to date with their plans for the future.

Ian Quick's emails should they continue may cause to undermine the leadership in Victoria may have a ripple effect and flow onto Malcolm Turnbull who is currently trailing struggling to keep his coalition together.

The Australian in a recent News poll indicated that Turnbull is approaching his 30th poor poll rating since taking office, mirroring his predecessor Tony Abbott.

State Director Nick Demiris could not be reached for a statement. The State Director is believed to be in consultation with members of the Administrative Committee on how to handle the nefarious "Quick" emails to party members.

Post Script. I have written a number of political article on various subjects and other matters. Since that time I have received a number of abusive telephone calls at home and on my mobile. Furthermore please note that all my calls are monitored due to inappropriate behaviour. I have also received unwarranted and inappropriate threatening emails. As I take such matters to heart, I would like to point out that I have no malice towards any individual. In fact I admire anyone who stands up or what they believe in. I am the same and will do what is right in the eyes of our society. If any reader is aggrieved by my comments, then an apology is in order on my part.

I will go even further and apologise to all and sundry if my posts have offended or upset my very dear friends, mates, ex-military, retired cobbers political, military, community and all those I have met throughout life. But having apologised does not mean that we do not have our political differences and I don't expect us as individuals to see eye to eye on many things apart from wanting as in my case Liberal Governments in power. My disagreements if any with individual are never personal.

If those who read what I have written, please be assured that it was not my intention and I am sorry if people have taken it the wrong way. I have explained in another post what has occurred to my database and in my own manner of speaking I hoped that it would make matters clearer. If not then I am sorry if readers have taken my posts the wrong way. I welcome as always constructive criticism to matters which readers may feel need further clarification and I will endeavour to correct it. It may also mean that I may have to add a postscript to any article that I write in order that others understand that what is being written is not personal at all. Thank you to everyone for their kind support and understanding. Peter Adamis.
