

Sycophant Artist syc·o·phant

An internet keyboard warrior, crawler, recalcitrant, wannabee politician, worm, brown-noser, flatterer, toad, lackey, stooge yes-men, bootlicker and/or a yes person!

Abalinx battles Social Media Sycophant Artists!

Abalinx 5 April 2018 Peter Adamis

According to history, the Salem Witch hunt trials conducted in Massachusetts, USA were as a result of people being accused of wizardry and witchcraft. Those who condemned others did so because of their ignorance, fear of the unknown; and revenge and to take advantage of the moment.

Because they were so fearful, themselves they embarked on a series of witch hunts which resulted in the execution of innocent people. Today those same tactics are being used politically to reduce the influence of those who dare speak out against the injustices of this world.

There are many professional, part time, retired and freelance journalists who have been the target of others. Then we have those witch hunters intent on making a name for themselves by accusing those of “masquerading as freelance journalists” such as myself. (Note that I have been writing as a freelance journalist in excess of ten years without seeking financial compensation)

Abalinx response to those “modern day internet keyboard warriors, crawlers, sycophants, recalcitrant, wannabee politicians, weasels, worms, and other supercilious undesirables”; intent on destroying an organisation dedicated to helping others is: “bring it on”. They shall all be exposed in one way or another! The wolf pack of like-minded sycophants’ activities have been noted. Their attempts to discredit me and my friends by compiling information from Facebook posts, Messenger “inbox”, My space, YouTube, LinkedIn, education institutions, articles, multicultural, political, community, redundant emails, military history and legal data have all been identified and their requests recorded. In fact I am on record as advising the public that because of Abalinx and associates, all my calls are recorded for quality and training purposes! Silly little wolf cubs must think I was born yesterday.

As for those responsible for corrupting the Abalinx data base, they should be ashamed of themselves. Just because they could not handle the truth, the exposure and their attempts to curtail freedom of speech, have much to learn. Those responsible should not try and hide behind multicultural concepts, colour of skin, religion, gender, sexual orientation or any other new alleged identity, for they will fail. I have news for them. Sooner or later they will all be exposed and put to shame for their iniquitous and supercilious behaviour.

The Abalinx website has now implemented a new subscribers program which alerts new subscribers that they have been subscribed. No matter how many new emails are entered, the owner of the email can bring it to our attention. The website has also installed “new security behaviour and identity guidelines” within known parameters. These new parameters enables the website to “identify the internet keyboard warriors, crawlers, sycophants, recalcitrant, wannabee politicians, weasels, worms, and other supercilious undesirables”.

As always, apologies for the savagery of the English language. My attempts at masquerading as freelance journalist must be working for I am still writing and enjoy expressing myself and living in a country where freedom of expression (According to the Australian Human Rights Commission) has not yet been suppressed. My curiosity, compassion, having an opinion, calling a spade a spade, never having fear as a companion, effective writing skills, focus to details, expertise, confidence, reliability, strong work ethic, diligent, and hard-working, dedicated, self-motivated, determined, mental multi tasker, persistent, fighting the good fight, assisting the little Aussie battler, never giving up and having a “Duty First” motto are qualities I have inherited from my many mentors, friends, colleagues, cobbler, digger, mates and family throughout life. I am truly thankful and yep I think I do all right for a freelance Aussie journalist battler! As for my critics, they can get stuffed! This Australia mate!
