

RESPONDING TO POLITICAL OPPONENTS

Abalinx 11 July Peter Adamis.
This brief article is in response to recalcitrant and sycophant individuals in the Liberal Party. A motley crew who are un-Australian in their attitudes and behaviours and are not considered worthy of being called Australians.

They are not team members and only take delight in attacking those who do the hard yards. When I and many like myself were serving, we would from time to time to time meet with self-seeking selfish individuals who we called "JACKMEN". They were considered the low of the low and were always booted out because they put the remainder at risk.

This typical generic statement is used to flood all of their comments no matter what they are until such time as their Social Media settings are changed or their unwarranted behaviour changes.

I have no place in my life for disloyal citizens. It's one thing to believe in your particular party another thing to bring discredit and undermine your political party you may belong to. The following is a generic response to Dingo Dingo and the Looney Left Liberals.

GENERIC "ONLINE DOS" RESPONSE TO DINGO DINGO SYCOPHANT ILLITERATE FANS

"Sticks and stones may break our bones but your uncouth names will never hurt us."

This generic and ongoing response is not aimed at the few who I know personally and are friends but rather to those who practice "JANUS" philosophies and will not lift a finger to assist those doing the hard political campaigning and work.

ONLINE ENTRAPMENT CONCEPTS.

In days of old when the enemy would not come out of their holes, traps were laid to attract and seduce the enemy with all kinds of inducements. Those who were silly enough to expose themselves found it was to their peril. For example:

The Communist Chinese during the so called enlightenment period (Cultural Revolution) under Chairman Mao thought they could express themselves freely. When they did they were all rounded up and removed from society.

In Dingo Dingo Social Media profile I found that being attacked on one of the posts and attacking others required a suitable response. Therefore when going on the defence, online entrapment methodologies were used. Similar concepts were used many years ago to capture paedophiles, spies, criminals and effectively used against political opponents. I say if the cap fits into any of these categories then so be it.

Only those who have knowledge of such concepts do not engage for they know that they get exposed. Well, well, what else can I say but: "WELCOME TO MY PARLOUR". Busy little political insects that you are. Silly little people with nothing else to do but call me a dinosaur and delusional; are nothing but compliments to me especially when you look at their profiles and realize how ancient they truly are.

CONCLUSION.

In closing thanks for the challenges. Dingo Dingo remains the weak bastard. No guts, no courage, devoid of any intelligence, foolish little insect that hovers on a pile of manure hoping to feed on the maggots thus enhancing the Face Book profile.

DINGO DINGO AND CRONIES ARE NOTHING BUT TINY MALEVOLENT AND MALICIOUS INSECTS.

If everyone puts the same energy into supporting Matthew Guy and Michael Kroger the Liberal Party would win hands down. But I fear the few who have become members of the Liberal Party do so for selfish self-seeking reasons and not for the good of Australia and the Liberal Party which is a progressive conservative political party. Put aside your differences and let us work together to win government. Once that mission has been accomplished, then return to the maggot ridden manure pile and attack me.

LET ME MAKE IT QUITE CLEAR. SHOULD MATTHEW GUY AND HIS PARLIAMENTARY FAIL TO WIN GOVERNMENT? I WILL PLACE THE BLAME AND RESPONSIBILITY OF FAILURE UPON THOSE LOONEY LEFT LIBERAL SELF SEEKING AND SELFISH DIVISIVE SYCOPHANTS. FULL STOP.

But until then, save your divisive comments for the Greens and Labor Party. We need unity not disunity in the Liberal party.
